BELLESIDE CEMETERY.

The original Burying-Ground set apart for the newly-formed Fergus Settlement in the year 1835,—and afterwards slightly enlarged, lay immediately behind Saint-Andrew's Church ; but in little more than a quarter of a Century all the burying-ground lots had been taken up, and it became necessary to look out for an additional and suitable spot to meet the exigency which had thus arisen.

The result was the gift by A. D. Ferrier Esq. of Five acres from his property of Belleside ; and its first occupant was laid to rest in May 1863. The Municipality of Fergus at a later date, acquired five acres more in case of need.

The Cemetery has been judiciously laid out, and belts of planting have thriven. The Tomb-stones and Monuments of one description or other—are generally chaste in design, and in many cases elegant. The Cemetery is devoid of the picket fences which linger round some few graves in the original Burying-ground ; and enclosures are in general tastefully kept—some, particularly so.

Without venturing to criticize inscriptions, it is safe to say that all are more or less suitable, and that some lines of poetry and some quotations from Scripture, are certainly appropriate, as well as singularly expressive.

It is hoped that no omissions nor inaccuracies have taken place in transcribing—or very few at any rate. The alphabetical arrangement has occasioned in some cases, separation of inscriptions on stones which stand side by side in the Cemetery. (Fergus, 20th August 1883.)

BELLESIDE CEMETERY.

The original plan was, of course, set apart for the newly-formed Terminus Settlement in 1835—and what was slightly enlarged, but immediately became Saint Andrew's Church: but in 1845 more than a quarter of a century all the burying-ground had been taken up, and it became necessary to look out for an additional and suitable spot to meet the exigency which had thus arisen. The result was the gift by A. D. Farnes Esq. of five acres from his property of Belleside, and the first interment was made to rest in May 1846. The Mass. Society of Friends at a later date, acquired five acres more in case of need. The Cemetery has been judiciously laid out, and notes of planning have been made. The Tomb-stones and Monuments of one description or another are generally classic in design, and in many cases elegant. The Cemetery is the end of the picket fences which in 1845 surrounded the tract in the original burying-ground, and which were now generally brokenly left—some, however, still standing. It is not intended to criticize the work, it is safe to say that all the monuments are suitable, and that some things of poetry and some quotations from Scripture are judiciously appropriate, as well as significant and wise. It is hoped that no other monuments will be erected here, but that the present arrangement—so very fine in its style, and the respect and interest which it has secured in the minds of the people, will be maintained. We cannot tell who next may fall

Beneath Thy chastening rod ;

One must be first—but, let us all

Prepare to meet our God.

For this corruptible must put on incorruption,
and this mortal must put on immortality.

Sweetly sleep, lie and slumber,

Rest thy body in the tomb :

Days, weeks, and years may number,

Till memory fresh shall bloom.

The storms of affliction are o'er:
His struggles are ended at last,
And sorrow and death are no more.*

Violet

died April 26 1882, aged 5 yrs 7 mos & 24 ds :
beloved daughter of Wm & Jessie Russell.

*Suffer the little children—
I heard the Saviour say:
My Kingdom is composed
Of such little ones as they:
Unless ye, like the children—
Are pure and free from sin,
In no-wise shall ye enter
To the presence of the King.*

BELLESIDE CEMETERY (Additional.)

Rev. Edward Whittle

Methodist Episcopal Minister,

Having labored 52 years in the Ministry,—died June 28 1866

aged 72 years :

Native of Co. Tyrone, Ireland.

"I have fought the good fight, I have kept the faith, I have finished my course: henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of glory, which the Lord, the Righteous Judge shall give unto me in that day." 2 Timothy IV Chap. 7 & 8 verses.

Farewell.

In loving remembrance of Jane Hall, beloved wife of Rev. Ed. Whittle :
who died Oct. 11 1882 aged 70 years.

"Thanks be to God, which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ." 1 Cor. XV 57.

*She was a tender mother here,
And in her life the Lord did fear :
We trust our loss will be her gain,
And that, with Christ she's gone to reign.*
